

Game Cameras

Overview

Running game cameras on a consistent basis can be a difficult and tedious task. This can be especially true for landowners that live hours, or even states away. With this service Wildland Systems wants to enable landowners distanced from their land the opportunity to receive regular and reliable game camera photographs of their wildlife. This is critical for monitoring your herd for population characteristics and diseases.

If you would like to scout your Texas hunting land for this year's big buck while at home in Oklahoma, then this is the service you need. Prime locations will be scouted and attractants placed. Premium quality game cameras will be installed to provide you with the highest quality pictures. Pictures will be sorted (by camera site) and compiled into an album sent to you on a monthly basis. This album will be clear of blurry, duplicate, and false-trigger pictures, freeing you of the headache.
